BISHOP ASKS CHILDREN TO SAVE AND BUY STAMPS

Rev. John J. Nolan, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Hartford, has sent out from the episcopal residence in Hartford the following appeal to the children of the parochial schools: The government of the United States wants every child in the country to become a thrifty. To be thrifty means to make good use of the things that belong to us through frugality, industry and good management. It does not mean to be stingy, miserly, greedy, covetous or selfish. It is opposed to wastefulness, destructiveness and self-indulgence. Our talents and opportunities are gifts from God. To make the best use of them is not only pleasing to Him but assures us of prosperity, good health and a virtuous life. As an inducement to habits of saving, the government has issued stamps and war savings stamps, so that every person who purchases them may have a share in the ownership of our great country. We must never forget that in the United States of America, the people are the government. In lending, therefore, to the government they are lending to themselves and investing their money where it will bring the best and surest results. The more money we lend to the government, the less taxes we have to pay. If we do not lend, we must pay the expenses of the government out of our own pockets, either in direct taxes or by paying more for the things we use. If we put our savings into the government, then the American people can not only pay their own government expenses but also lend more money to other nations, and little by little we shall become the bankers of the world, so that other people will be our debtors and will have to pay us for the use of our money. Every American can thus become a capitalist and have the money necessary for the use of himself and others who depend on him for prosperity and happiness. When a boy or girl grows up and leaves school, how fortunate to have enough money saved to go to college or to begin successful business or to own one's home! Thousands of boys and girls fall in life because they did not prepare themselves to begin right. Thousands cannot enter their proper vocation because they were not thrifty. If they had saved and invested their money, they would have the means to early success. If the 20,000,000 school children practiced thrift, they could save more money than is spent by all the colleges and universities in the country. If they saved one cent a day, it would amount to a million dollars a day. The price of admission to the movies, if saved, would reach two million dollars a day. The cost of candy saved would mean another million dollars.

All together, these items would total a billion and a half dollars in the year. If loaned to the government, this amount would be enough to pay for the ordinary expenses of the government. As an investment it would bring a large income to the boys and girls of the country.

At the same time their health would be better on account of walking instead of riding in unsanitary trolley cars. Their eyes would not be injured by looking at moving pictures. Their teeth and stomachs would not be ruined by candy. They would have more time for self improvement or increased earnings.

So, boys and girls, buy as many stamps as you can. Keep them as long as you can. It will teach you to use what is counted to your keeping as well as you can.

Stamford. — In St. John's church Sunday Bishop Brewster announced from the pulpit that Rev. Dr. Charles Morris Addison for 23 years rector of that church, has placed his resignation in the hands of the vestry and that, although he had been asked to reconsider his action, the effort was without success.

Senator Woodruff, the chairman of the committee on agriculture, explained the bill for the repeal of the law relating to the marketing of eggs which the house has rejected, and moved its passage to the committee on the report of the committee on finance on the bill to suspend the payment of trolley taxes for two years with the provision that the companies should be charged and a lien placed on the property of the companies for the amount of the taxes. The majority of the committee reported unfavorably and the minority favorably.

Senator Bowers explained the report of the committee on finance on the bill to suspend the payment of trolley taxes for two years. If that were not done the companies would go into the hands of receivers.

Senator Brooks said the state was consistently refusing to aid the trolley boys. He did not think it was for the trolley but for car riders. He did not think it was for the trolley but for car riders.

state normal school and for providing plans for new buildings. Calendar. The committee on appropriations also reported a bill that all insurance monies paid to the comptroller and paid over to the treasurer shall be credited and added by the comptroller to the appropriation for the department interested for the sole purpose of repaying or replacing the property destroyed. Calendar.

State Board of Charities.

Under a bill favorably reported by the committee on appropriations, the compensation of supervisors employed by the state board of charities shall not exceed $1,500 a year except that one may be paid $2,000 a year as director of the board's work. Calendar.

The report of the committee was explained by Senator Adams, the chairman of the committee, and supported by Senator Wilcox. The report was accepted and the bill passed.

Senator Bowers, the chairman of the committee on finance, explained the bill concerning the inheritance tax. The bill, said the senator, was retaliatory and proposed to tax the estates of non-residents in Connecticut. The bill would be treated in the same way, with reference to the inheritance tax, as the state in which he lived. The bill was passed.

Senator Woodruff, the chairman of the committee on agriculture, explained the bill for the repeal of the law relating to the marketing of eggs which the house has rejected, and moved its passage to the committee on the report of the committee on finance on the bill to suspend the payment of trolley taxes for two years with the provision that the companies should be charged and a lien placed on the property of the companies for the amount of the taxes. EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then "act fine." This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE

Each week is setting more busy than the last at the Connecticut College. The coming graduation of the first class in June is making its effects felt in manifold directions.

Lectures have been one of the features of the week, aside from class lectures, there have been three special lectures by prominent men on timely subjects. Tuesday afternoon Dr. Edward S. Palmer of Cornell University, Ohio, addressed conversation on The Struggle for Democracy. He is a most interesting speaker and employs many amusing anecdotes during his lecture. He speaks from a wide experience with many types and races of people and has made a thorough study of conditions existing in the country today.

Tuesday evening Prof. C. Petrunkevich, of the University of Moscow, Russia, lectured on the Russian question. He reviewed the growth of conditions in Russia, the condition of the peasantry, the attitude of the government, the formation of the Soviet of 1905, the rise of Trotsky, and the rise of Bolshevism. He is a Russian by birth and race and under-stands the Russian mind and the situation which has given rise to Bolshevism of today.

Thursday afternoon Prof. Martin Rosanoff of Pittsburgh spoke on The Place of Science Today. He explained the practical effects which are often obtained from experiments in science attempted from pure love of the experiment rather than from the utilitarian viewpoint. He cited instances which were applicable during the war but which were discovered too late to be utilized. Such were the greater yielding power of gasoline at high altitudes and the use of helium instead of hydrogen in aeroplanes or balloons.

Thursday heralded the traditional May day exercises at the college. The sophomores, always alive and doing, hung May baskets on the doors of the seniors, their sister class, vivid things of purple and orange, with flowers and candles in the baskets.

At 7 o'clock the college sang on the steps of New London hall the song which is sung annually from the steps of Oxford college in England. The hymn was sung the first year of the founding of the college; it is a Te Deum and is sung in Latin. The custom is being kept up at the college in memory of the late President Frederick H. Sykes.

At 9 o'clock the court between Plant and Blackstone houses the college body, faculty and students gathered for May day exercises in the open of Oxford college in England. The hymn was sung the first year of the founding of the college; it is a Te Deum and is sung in Latin. The custom is being kept up at the college in memory of the late President Frederick H. Sykes.

Elections are still in sway at college. As a result of balloting this week Miss Edith Lindholm of Middletown, president of the junior class, was elected chairman of the executive committee of the student government association.

Miss Alice Tuttle was elected secretary. The student council for the coming year will consist of the following: President, Helen Perry, Norwich, N. Y.; vice president, Frances Barlow, Chicago, Ill.; secretary, Olive Tuttle, Stamford; treasurer, A. Gene Leahy, Norwich; chairman of executive committee, Edith Lindholm, Middletown; president of senior class, Alice Horvath, Montclair, N. J.; president of Junior class, Rachel Smith, Bayonne, N. J.; president of sophomore class, Mildred Duncan, Hartford; president of freshmen class, to be elected in June; president of the Service League, Leah Nora Peck, Chicago, Ill.

Six men employed at the lower sheddy mill quit work Thursday and walked out, demanding an increase of 10 per cent, in their wages which the company refused. Some of the men returned to work Friday morning at the old wages. The company is paying $19.50 per week for this unskilled labor and does not feel that it can pay more under present conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Chaffee have moved from Grant avenue to West Stafford.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

William J. Hanley has been spending a few days in New York city. Ernest Jones of Pelham Bay naval training station is at home in town on a thirty days' furlough.

The Stafford baseball club opened a fair at St. Edward's hall for the purpose of raising money for the club this summer. The fair opened successfully.

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes the only resident Methodist bishop in New England will visit the local Methodist church Sunday and will preach at 7:30 p. m. on Sunday evening at 7:30. This is the first time in 29 years for a bishop to visit this church. Bishop Hughes was here several years ago, but was not a bishop at that time. He was then attending Boston University school of Theology. At that time Rev. E. P. Clark was pastor of the local church. Napoleon Perro, Jr., has been in New York on a business trip for the past few days.

Frank Levine and Edward Young have been discharged from the military service and have returned to Stafford Springs.

Nick Kallous of New York is the guest of James Speer.

Mrs. Mary Simons has sold her farm at Stafford Hollow to Peter Wargo.

The largest association of British veterans and war is known as the "old-timers." The name is "Federation of Discharged and Demobilized Soldiers and Sailors."

On Anzac Day, April 25, there will be a veterans' parade of Australian troops through London. The detachment to the number of 5,000, will march from the West End to the city, passing the monument where the first mayor will take the salute.

The ancient town of Honfleur (population 3,600), Department of Calvados, at the mouth of the Seine, opposite to Havre, is ambitious to recover something of the commercial and maritime importance which it enjoyed long ago before the war. The town has suffered a great deal of deterioration and before the port of Havre rose into prominence.

One thousand bass are now dwelling imprisoned in cans with holes in the top under the water in a lake near West Chester, Pa. They were supplied by the state fisheries department to the lake owners who wished to stock up with bass. He rowed out with the cans, each containing 200 baby fish. The boat swam to shore, the cans sank; the man swam to shore.

Sweden is rich in waterfalls and rivers and in iron and copper ore, but it cannot take the lead in any of these resources, although in certain kinds of ore Sweden has a wide margin to hold its own in the world market. Sweden takes the lead, and through these, in connection with its water power, that country will become one of the world's leading industrial countries.

The City of Turin by popular subscription raised more than $100,000 for the refugees assigned to that city, of whom there were about 15,000. The supervision of all refugees was centered in a committee appointed by the governor of the province and composed of municipal and provincial officers, thus avoiding the many vexatious which would have occurred in a committee composed entirely of private citizens.

The Chinese Industrial and Commerce Association of Chicago, organized March 18, is the first exclusive Chinese commercial organization in the United States. Its objects are to promote the industrial and social interests of the Chinese in the United States. The headquarters of the new association are located at 217 West Twenty-second street, Chicago.

Waterbury—Father Michael Farin, who spoke at Notre Dame convent last week, is a member of the faculty of the department of literature at Holy Cross college. He took for his subject The Balance of Mass in the Land of Song. He gave many illustrations of Irish poetry and song, assisted by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Farin, of the New England Conservatory of Music.

POETRY

THE HILL WALL

The Pool, light-hearted,
With dance and song
Came to the great Wall throws
Across his pathway, stone
From grave to grave he looks
High towered, and sat him down
Lamenting his and fate,
Helpless and desolate.

The Hero striding came
And, with his hand on his side
With courage and laughter, made
An onslaught on the wall
Patiently, stair by stair,
That he might scale and dare
The utmost and the highest—he
Won as all will who fight,
For what they deem their right,
Courageously.

Last, a Philosopher
With quiet tread
Came on the scene.
The Wall was grand; a stir
Of wonder shook him—but undismayed
And firm of faith, he said:
"The Builders of a work so great
Must somewhere have designed a gate."
And, walking quietly round,
A stately entrance found.

—John F. Waddington.

WATCH THE WAY FOR STAMPS

It ain't the trees that block the trail,
It ain't the rocks or pine;
For, if you fall or if you fail,
It was some pesky vine
That tripped you up, that threw you down.
That caught you unaware;
The big things you can walk around—
But watch the way for snags.

—Douglas Malloch.
